SIDDHA MEDICAL CAMP

Objectives:

1. To provide free basic health check-ups and Siddha medical consultation to students and the local community.
2. To promote awareness of Siddha system of medicine as a traditional, holistic, and preventive healthcare practice.
3. To identify common health issues such as digestive disorders, joint pain, respiratory problems, skin ailments, and lifestyle-related diseases at an early stage.
4. To educate participants on dietary habits, lifestyle modifications, and preventive healthcare practices based on Siddha principles.
5. To encourage the use of natural and herbal remedies for maintaining overall physical and mental well-being.
6. To provide guidance on safe, cost-effective, and side-effect-free Siddha treatments.
7. To create awareness about the importance of regular health check-ups and self-care through traditional medicine.
8. To strengthen community engagement by integrating traditional knowledge with modern health awareness.

Programme Outcomes:

The Siddha Medical Camp successfully achieved its objectives by providing free basic health assessments and expert Siddha medical consultations, thereby improving access to traditional healthcare services for students and the local community. The programme effectively enhanced awareness and understanding of the Siddha system of medicine as a holistic, preventive, and natural approach to health and well-being. Early identification of common health issues enabled timely guidance and preventive care, while educational sessions on diet, lifestyle modification, and Siddha principles empowered participants to adopt healthier practices. The camp also fostered a positive attitude towards the use of natural and herbal remedies and highlighted the safety, affordability, and effectiveness of Siddha treatments. Overall, the initiative strengthened community engagement and promoted the integration of traditional Siddha knowledge with modern health awareness, contributing meaningfully to preventive healthcare and sustainable well-being.
